WAYS TO MANAGE CRISIS IN
RELATIONSHIP
& MARRIAGE

SECRETS TO UNFAILABLE
& MARRIAGE

Every marriage and relationship go through a trying time, the way it managed will determine if the trial will break or make the relationship stronger. Here are some of the ways to manage crisis in your marriage and relationship.

1. Learning to talk right

Most of the troubles we face in our marriages and relationships are as a result of words that were not properly spoken. Words are majorly our medium of expression; though there are other medium of expression that are usually not as harmful as words, when used wrongly in a relationship. For instance you can be angry with your spouse and you walk pass him or her without speaking a word, you can even keep mute for a whole day, it will not be as harmful as walking pass them sighing or saying "you stupid man or woman". If you want to avoid marital troubles or desire to drive your relationship to a successful end, you must learn to speak right. Words are the most important success secrets to any relationship; because every relationship is established by spoken words, and will only take right words to be sustained. For instance, the relationship between man and God was initiated by words. "Let us make man in our own image and likeness" (Gen1: 26) Also, the relationship between a man and woman is initiated through words. When a man wants to woo a woman he approaches her with words, when accepting his proposal it usually through spoken or written words. When exchanging marital vow, it usually through spoken words. For your relationship, life and all you do to prosper; you are going to learn how to use words properly. If you understand the power of words, you will live a prosperous and a peaceful life. The first job God gave a man after creating him was a communication job; his assignment in the garden was done through speaking into things. It was the words of Adam that formed the personality of every beast of the field. It was Adam's imagination of animals that they became. If you know how to talk, you will succeed in whatever you do on planet earth. Right words will put money in your pocket, win your spouse heart, earn you respect before people and make you God's favorite.

God have not change the tool (words) given to man to work things out since creation. Words are the most power force on earth; it can create anything and can break anything. Jesus came to the earth apart from dying for our sin; He also came to teach us to talk right.

Learn not to be quick to speak negative words, no matter the crisis you are going through in your marriage. Any negative words you speak to your spouse comes back to hunt you. For instance, you can give someone a gift, and there after change your mind about it, and take back your gift, but you can never take back wrong words once it spoken, even if you have change your mind about it. One of the ways to manage crisis in relationship is to manage what you say in the period of crisis.

It is very tempting to speak negative words when you are angry; but deliberately learn to manage it, even if you have no settlement in view. A lot of single people of marriageable age would have been married today, if they had learnt to manage words when their relationship was going through crisis. Do not be quick to tell people things that they can hardly forget, or not easy to forgive because you are hurt. There was a news on CNN that happened in United Kingdom, a young lady poured acid on another lady because she called her "ugly" years ago, that is how powerful the force of words could be, words can to create both positive and negative actions. There are a lot of couples living together but the negative words that were spoken in the past had pulled them apart emotionally. Learn to control what you say during crisis, wrong words have the power to create separation.

Right words will work any marriage or relationship to a successful end. There are only two ways to make any marriage a continuous honey moon, TALK RIGHT AND ACT RIGHT. Proverbs says "Pleasant words are as a honeycomb, sweet to the soul and health to the bones" in my own words I say, pleasant words are health to any relationship, strengthens your bond, and bring the best out of your spouse. Each time you hear marriage failure, it actually attitude and negative words that bring about marriage failure, marriage is an attitude test. This was why the parents of old spend a lot of time training their female children on how to talk right, behave right, and be homely. They also train their male children to be hard working in preparation for the testing ground (Marriage).

During my courtship with my husband, our relationship had external challenges, then we were living in different parts of the world. Someone told him something nasty about me and he chose to believe her, only to call me one day and said "somebody told me something about you and he added before I could say a word, "I believe you will do it". I was so angry to be judge wrongly, but I managed not to say a word and drop the phone, I turn to my cousin seating beside me and said, I will tell this man words he will never forget, but she said "it not necessary it will not change the situation" I took her advice. He called me two months later to apologize and we went on with our marriage plans.

Thank God for good counsel, probably I could have been rude to him and that would have ruined our relationship. The bibles Says "for we all stumble in many ways, and if anyone does not stumble in what he says, he is a perfect man, able to bridle his whole body" so also a tongue is a small member, yet it boasts of great things. How great a forest is set ablaze by such a small fire!"

If you learn to speak perfect words your marriage and relationship will not stubble into trouble. Just like small fire can burn down a whole forest, so also little wrong statement here and there can be deadly to any relationship and marriage.

"Words" the human advantage

The edge God gave to man over other of His creatures was the ability to speak. Animal cannot form words, they can only make noise, plant cannot speak, sea cannot form words, it only makes noise. God created beast before He created man, but did not give them the ability to speak because they were not created like Him. Everything God created on earth and in heaven was through spoken words, so the only one that is to possess that nature on earth was the one He formed like HIMSELF, and who is to represent him here on earth. Also when the first man was calling forth the personality of the beast, he did not call forth their ability to speak either, because he knows that was his advantage over them. He made sure their ability to talk was tamed. "for every kind of beast, bird, of reptile and sea creature, can be tamed and has been tamed by mankind" (James 2:7)

If God had given animals ability to speak, the world would have been chaotic. Your dominion power is in your word. If you desire a peaceful and enjoyable life, marriage and relationship, you have to deliberately choose to speak right words. Be polite when talking with your spouse; make sure you are not disrespectful in your words because, every wrong word you speak to your spouse takes them further from you. Right words will create your desired home and relationship.

WAYS TO LEARN TO SPEAK RIGHT

(a) Think right about your spouse; you are what you think, you cannot replay the wrong of your spouse in your heart all day, and expect to speak pleasant words to him or her. Speaking right words start from thinking right about your spouse. Never meditate on your spouse wrong, you will be pushed to speak wrong words to them.

“Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth will speak” learns to push your spouse wrong from your heart; it will help your mouth to speak right.

(b) Learn to overlook some of his or her wrong.

(c) Learn to speak inwardly when you cannot control the urge to speak. This is a great relief method when you are tempted to speak out with anger, instead of saying it to his or her hearing, that will further cause more problems, speak it inwardly, it will give you some relief, you will feel as though they heard you but, they did not get to hear anything.

Remember when you were little, if you grew up in the kind of environment like I did, when your elder ones beat you and you cannot talk back at them openly to avoid more problems, you grumble and speak words inwardly as though you told them and that gives you some kind of relief. This method will help a beginner until they gain total control of their words.

(d) Always remember every wrong word you speak to your partner hurt them and could drag them farther from you. Having this consciousness will help you to control what you say to your spouse and how you say them.

2. Do not tell too many people:

When your marriage or relationship is going through crisis, learn not to tell too many people, if you must tell anyone, look for a good counselor that can help you, not friends and family. In most cases, telling friends will help to end the relationship instead of restoring it.

The first person you should learn to talk to, when you are going through any crisis should be the Holy Spirit; He lives within your spirit. He is so close that He knows your thought without you speaking it, but He does not intrude on any of your issues except He is invited.

He knows all the answers to your questions, He knows what you are suppose to do that will bring peace to your crisis, and He can also help you remove your wrong from your spouse heart.

The reason for divorce here and there is because of lack of closeness with God; do not mistake a lot of church activities for closeness. People attend religious activities more these days, but are even farther from God.

Jesus promises you peace, and peace He will give you in every aspect of your life, if you let Him. “He says come to me all you that had labor in relationship without success, in marriage where there is crisis, and I will give you rest”

God lives in you, so you can talk to Him. Some couples could have still been together today, if they had manage their crisis well. When you are going through crisis in your marriage, family is the worse people to tell. They see your husband or wife as a stranger to them, so they always base their advice on sentiment. The major disadvantage of telling your spouse wrong to family members is, even when you later forgive your spouse for their wrong, your family will refuse to completely forgive or trust you are save in your home.

3. Forgive:

Marriage is a game of forgiveness, if you're not ready to constantly play the forgiveness game, do not even think of marriage. Your spouse will offend you more than anyone else in the world, but you have to learn to forgive and take every day as a fresh one. Un-forgiveness is the greatest threat of marital harmony and peace; it brings division to your home and makes it impossible to calm the storm of crisis.

A lot of marriages had gone down because of un-forgiveness; this is the most powerful Satan's strategy, to prevent you from allowing God to bring healing to your home and relationship. Stop meditating on the wrong your spouse or someone else had cause you, it will not add to you rather remove from you.

If you can forgive yourself for the mistakes you make, why can't you in the same way forgive your spouse for their mistakes or wrongs? Learn to always forgive, you cannot control people from hurting you, but you can control their hurt from hunting your life. One of the key to happiness is learning to dust off all the negative things you go through during your day, on the same day. Someone says nasty things to you, dust it off on the same day. Your boss talk to you in a manner you do not like, push it off from your heart, to the point that even if you remember the following day, it no longer hurt you. Don't give any wrong act, the privilege to stay in your heart. If you can learn these principle, you will become healthier, prosperous and a happy person.

(Eph 4:27-28) “Be angry but do not sin, do not let the sun go down on your anger and give no opportunity to the devil”. When someone hurt you, you will be angry at first and God understand that, but it turns to sin when it stays in your heart more than a day and that will give opportunity to Satan to steal from you.

When you see any marriage where there is un-forgiveness, crisis is always a part of that family because; un-forgiveness had given opportunity to Satan to steal the peace in that home. Do not give a place to Satan in your life that he had lost. Forgiveness will help you manage crisis in marriage, and you will come out unhurt.

4. Understand your spouse:

For you to enjoy a successful relationship with your spouse, you have to learn to understand them. Understanding the person you are dealing with, will help you to cope with him/her. A lot of people are having an unbearable relationship not because they have a horrible spouse, but because of lack of understanding of their spouse. There is no body you cannot live with if only you can understand them. One of the ways to manage crisis, is for you to understand your spouse weakness and know, he or she is human and prone to make mistakes. Nobody can treat you better than they know. Before you start calling your spouse a horrible person, check his or her background, we are all reflexion of the quality of investment that had been invested into our lives. When you meet a 30 years old man that is well behaved, disciplined and hard working and you meet another with opposite character, is neither of their fault, it the quality of investment into their lives. Nobody came into this world with either bad or good character; we are all products of our up- bringing. If you can understand this, you will be more patient with people and will learn to overlook your spouse mistakes. Also know your spouse will outgrow their mistakes. There are some things you use to do ten years ago, that you will not think of doing now; so will your spouse be in no time from now. Be patient with your spouse they can only get better

Pray

God can heal both your physical body and your emotions. God can calm any storm in your relationship and your home.

A lady called me from Italy, she read my article on Face book on “how to be a choice spouse”, before she came across that piece, she thought there was no point staying in her marriage, but through that article, she learnt to forgive and work extra to see her home work.

Prayers are the most sure way to calm marital storm.

You and your spouse are one flesh, so if a n y other person, or issues is trying to join your flesh, you have the right to remove them by prayers, and God will honor your prayers.

Maintain a constant prayer life to avoid crisis in your life, marriage, business and relationship. A praying person is a growing person.

Create time to communicate with God. You can actually be having your bath and be praying, you can drive and pray, walk on the street and pray.

God says to you “pray always” “talk to me always”. Also constant prayer life helps you to be far from sin.

Prayers help you prevent and manage crisis in your marriage; it allows the Holy Spirit to bring healing to your heart and your spouse heart when you hurt them.

"Sex" AN ACT OF WORSHIP

Sex is an act of worship, it more than what you think it is. Sex is a holy act, designed by God to build intimacy between a man and his wife. This is why the more a couple spend intimate time together, the closer they become. God deliberately created the male organ to be different from the female organ for the purpose of sex. God created the human spirit in His own likeness, and He chooses the house of His likeness (the human body) can only come into existence through sex. When a man and his wife have sex, they become a co-creator with God. They create bond in God's first institution on earth and also co-create the human body. God could have created the human body without sex anyway, because He did it with the "baby" Jesus and with Adam and Eve but, He chooses to use sex to co-create the human body and uses good marriage to raise godly children. The bible told us that our body is the temple of God, and in any physical temple people gather to worship; when you engage in this bodily exercise call Sex, you are in WORSHIP. Each time you have sex with your married spouse, you are giving glory to the God that made that institution and created your sexual organ. Also you are fulfilling the purpose at which your sexual organs were created. Sex is another major secret to get your desires meant; a man and his wife can use sex as a force of agreement to speed up answers to their prayers. Satan knows sex is worship that was why in the city of Sodom and Gomorrah he was offered sex as worship. Adultery, fornication and same sex practice are pure Satanic worship. Each time you engage in any of these act, you join Satan to mock God, "saying see how I mess with what you intended to be holy". A lot of people do not know why they remain single for a long time, the bible tells us that "marriage is honorable to all and the bed undefiled". You cannot be mocking God and worshiping Satan with your body, and expect God to bless you with the honor and the blessing that comes along with marriage. Satan brings the temptation of sexual sin for two reasons, one to make you struggle in marriage, because you collaborate with him to remove the honor of your marriage, when you fall into that trap. Or he uses sexual sin to keep you single for a long time. Some ladies have been single for a long time, yet they are still willing to engage in sex before marriage. It only an insane person that does the same thing and expect a different result, if all your life, you have been giving to men, what was meant to come last, first and that had kept you single, it will be insanity to keep doing it and expect something different. One of the quickest way to know a man with a wrong intension, is they insist on sex before marriage and leave if you refuse to give in. God created sex to be holy, when you choose to have sex outside the court of holiness (which is marriage), it become unholy to God and become worship to Satan that pervert the use of sex. Sex is an act of worship, who, where, and when you engage in it, determines who you give the glory and worship to.

Sex is also a mystery, it build bond between married couples but destroy a relationship outside of marriage. A wise woman gives good sex to her husband, like the way she gives good food to him, because a man is always ready sexually. A man's need for sex is one of the strongest needs imaginable. It is part of his makeup that gives him great fulfillment. A wife needs to recognize this need, and consciously satisfy it. There is no amount of prayers that can win your husband's heart to you without good sexual satisfaction. Hunger makes the temptation of eating outside much harder to resist, Make your husband full at all time. To deprive a man of sex as punishment is foolishness, when there are cheap competitors outside, be a wise woman!

Make a decision never to worship Satan with your body, so God can give you the desires of your heart. Say no to premarital sex, same sex practice and adultery.

Secrets TO UNFAILABLE RELATIONSHIP & MARRIAGE

1. Listen to your inner being:

An un-failable relationship begins with making the right choices, because no matter how solid the bricks, it cannot stand on a sandy foundation, so the number one secret of un-failable relationship is to make the choice of a right partner.

Every relationship has challenges but it is easier when you are walking with the right person. Life is tougher when running with an under size shoes. Imagine you are running a race with an under size shoe on, how your leg will hurt; So it is in marriage when running with the wrong partner.

A lot of singles ask, "How do I identify the right partner"? The secret to identify the right spouse is in you; Which is Peace in your inner spirit, some people calls it instinct. When you meet your true partner, God will witness it to your spirit, and that witness will come with peace and confidence that you are about making the right decision. Another way to identify your partner is for you to date yourself. When you know yourself very well and all that is in you, you will naturally know the kind of man or woman that can suit you.

A lot of people have stayed unmarried because they want God to speak to their ears; your ears are external. There have been times God choose to speak to people audibly especially in the time of old , that was because He was not yet living inside of a man. Most often God speaks to your spirit, and the way you will recognize God's voice is, it always comes with peace. The person might not physically look it, but you will just be comfortable with the idea of spending the rest of your life with him/her. Though a lot of us has confused material things, to be God conceding to their decisions.

A young woman came into my office sometime ago, she said "my marriage is worse than thorns of rose, I have been married for four years but had never had a day of peace, she added "I almost knew I was marrying the wrong person but I never listened to my spirit". She said she never had peace within, all through the planning period of the wedding. Listening to your inner spirit also helps you to avoid quarrels in your home, and help guild against wrong business investment.

2. Learn to tell yourself the truth:

Some people see the obvious and they are lying to themselves. Never fight for a spot in a man/woman's life, if anyone wants to be with you, let he/she indicate their interest, never assume relationship. No one can truly like a thing and ignore it.

Note, it is not every relationship that will end in marriage, that is the essence of courtship; trying to know your partner before marriage. If you are in a relationship for six months and he/she have not shown any serious intention, they may actually be unserious. Do not let anyone stay too long in your life without any serious intention. When you are in any relationship always think of events and the conversation you have with the person, that should gives you a clue of what they want from you. Because people always consciously and unconscious talk and act out their desires.

As a lady, a man that want to settle with you will not be "playing round the bush" Men are like lions; lions cannot see a prey and be dodging, so men go for what they want. Any man doing otherwise with you is playing you. Also be careful not to deceive yourself, for instance you ask a man, do you love me, he says no, and you react, he tells you "I am joking" The first answer is the truth.

Once you sense in your spirit, you are in a wrong place tell yourself the truth and walk away. This will help you avoid future headache. If you can put these measures in place in any relationship it will help avoid future relationship failure.

3. Learning good approach:

A lot of people had lost good relationship because of wrong approach, not knowing how to handle issues. The way you handle issues in relationship will determine if the relationship will fail or succeed. You can say one thing and it will mean a different thing. When you do not know how to approach issues, it will cause unnecessary problems; you have to learn to be polite when talking with people; this determine relationship success.

Right approach to issues will take away unnecessary headache. Marriage is practical, this mean you can see when things are turning in the right or wrong direction. Always evaluate your day or week, if you have just two day of minor argument that was well handled in a week; that is fairly a good week, if you multiply that by 52weeks that is fairly a good marriage. disagreement will always come up in a relationship because you are both from a different background, even you can have disagreement with your siblings from the same parents. but if you are in a relationship where you have 5days of major or minor argument and 2days of peace that is bad marriage or relationship. Nothing good can hardly come out of such union, even God cannot reach them with blessings. "He says if two of you can agree touching anything on earth, it shall be done in heaven" so you need more days of agreement for you to have blessings. In a union where there is lack of peace and agreement, there will be sickness, poverty, extra marital affair etc. Evaluate your day/week when you discover the days of argument are more, then you make a conscious effort to improve it.

By experience, I have learnt that shouting and argument does a bad job to any marriage and soft words does well to your marriage. "Soft answers turn away anger" learn to speak peace.

4. Flexibility:

A lot of relationship crashed because of rigidity. When you are rigid you cannot make a good spouse; learn to be flexible. Flexibility means you adjust to situations and not hold firmly to a particular issue. Learn to listen to what your spouse has to say and improve.

As a husband, always learn to shift position or look at your wife point of view. God would not have bother giving you a wife, if her input or decision was not important; any man that pays no regard to his wife's advice, either die poor or die young. There are gifts placed in a woman for the benefit of her husband. For instance women have a higher spirit of discernment than that of men, been the head of the home does not mean, you take decisions without her opinion. Your wife is not your slave but your team mate. so you have to give her room to express herself. Am not saying you should agree to everything she says but allow her to express herself then you go and think over it; you can learn from her ideas.

Rigidity is the enemy of friendship. When you are rigid you make enemies too quickly; rigid people are always not liked, it makes you an enemy to all and even to your spouse. Some people are still single because they are rigid in their choice of spouse.

A suppose good marriage can end in the hand of a rigid person. Flexibility does not mean you violate your righteous stand or give up your integrity; it means to learn to listen to other people's idea. The reason you see people get married and after six months they are divorce is because of rigidity; they both want to stay in their high esteem. Flexibility also means denying yourself of some comfort in order to win another person over; you have to be willing to sacrifice for your spouse to enjoy an ever peaceful marriage.

5. Develop a sound attitude:

Without a sound attitude or knowing how to relate with others, your relationship is tend to fail. Relationship is an attitude test; it is the testing ground of character. It is in marriage you know, whether you are Godly or not because your spouse will offend you more than any other person in the world. You cannot have a wrong attitude and expect to have peaceful relationship.

When you hear people say "my boss do not like me, it is not about them, but their attitude, if they change their attitude, that same person will like them. I used to have a boss that never liked me, I was too bold for her liking; to her she was wondering why I was that bold. Sometimes your GIFT could cause you troubles. She never liked me for my boldness "she was my immediate boss" but our overall boss liked my boldness. If I had wanted to win her heart, all I need to do was to learn to kept quiet a bit. The success of every relationship depends on the attitude of the people involved. If only you can learn to think before you react, you will be a better person; because somebody is rude to you does not mean you must reply rudely, learn to pause and think before you reply. Mrs. T.D JAKES says "If I want to kill an issue, I just ignore it" so, if you want to kill constant arguments in your home, learn to ignore some actions.

6. Carry a possibility mindset:

Possibility thinkers are people that have thrown out the option of failure. Develop a mindset that your relationship or marriage must work. Learn to lock out the option of failure against your relationship/marriage. Believe in your spouse; relationship is all about FAITH, Hope for the best. Marriage is faith because the end is not seen from the beginning. But if you can carry the "it will work mentality" it will sure work. And you have to keep believing until death do you part; when you stop believing, your marriage will start failing.

When going into courtship, carry "it will work mentality". The act of believe has a way of bringing out a force in you to work things out. Always carry the mentality that your marriage, business, relationship will work even in the mist of challenges. There is no greatness without challenges. Success in marriage is nothing but a constant persistent to do things right; say the right words, believe the right things, pursue the right things. "If we can believe, all things are possible to him that believeth" Every marriage has its own challenges; it is the mindset that you carry that will determine the success. Anything you do in life, you decide the success. Your thinking pattern determines your level of success, a lot of people fail today because of their thought pattern, they allow what they see to becloud their thought. There are a lot of inventions that had died inside the heart of people because of fear, they did not believe it will work; they were overwhelm by the challenges they faced. God wants us bold, zealous. He loves us when we do not take no for an answer. Carry a possibility mindset it will help you succeed in marriage.

The Secrets of UNBEATABLE WOMAN

1. Understanding the Most Important Relationship

The most important relationship in a woman's life is the relationship with her Creator. When she understands this, it will help her relate excellently in any other relationship, and she will be successful. When a woman does not have a good relationship with her Creator, the relationship between her and her man becomes unfair since it was God that designed the order of relationship between a man and a woman, as well as the roles they play.

Assuming I have a colleague, and we were assigned a project by our boss and my colleague was made the leader; If my colleague chooses to be unfair to me and I have no cordial relationship with our boss, I will have to stomach the ill treatment and suffer in silence as long as that project runs. This is exactly what happens to a woman whose relationship with her man was designed by her Creator yet she does not have access to him.

The most vital relationship that a woman should crave for should be that of her Creator, so she can enjoy that of her man.

God knows how to control your man's heart to favour you. You will be so unfair to yourself when you do not create opportunity to access your Maker, who control the dealings about your relationship with your man. Also your creator can forever restrict your man from cheating on you just to keep you from hurt.

Let me share with you a Bible story with extreme power displayed in (Gen 12:17.) Abraham went to Egypt because there was famine where he was. Before he got to the city, he told his wife to disguise as his sister. So Pharaoh seeing a beautiful woman, took her in and Sarah was in his possession yet he could not have intimate time with her. That was God restricting King pharaoh from touching a woman he admired so much, to the extent of taking her in, but he could not achieve his desires.

On another occasion, same Abraham again came to a place called Gerard. Abimelec was the king of that place, and the same scenario repeated itself. God actually fought yet again for His friend; (Abraham). God appeared to the king by dream saying, "You are a dead man; the woman you took in is somebody's wife." The king said, "I did not know." Even in ignorance, God did not spare the king.

God can do this either way; it can work for a woman as well as a man. The secret of keeping and owning your man is to cleave to God; who have the power and He is willing to help control your man's heart in your favour.

2. Respect:

When a woman understands what respect means to her man, she remains on top of his list. Men feed on respect no matter how small they look. Respect is part of his design as a leader, protector and a provider. Respect boosts your man's self-esteem; just like it is to God, when you praise God and exalts His name, He feels good and releases you blessings; so also it is with a man. Any respect you show to your man comes back to you. There is no man that disregards respect. Respect goes straight to a man's heart and turns towards you the bright side of him. You can never lose a man you respect. This is one secret you will apply in your marriage/ relationship that no competitor can stand to compete with you. Show your man respect in your attitude, words and action; tell him how you appreciate him.

Respect is a long life school, issues will come up that will almost make you to disrespect him but as long as you cannot disrespect your Maker, try never to disrespect your man. Whenever it happens by mistake apologize to him sincerely and avoid a repeat.

Do you remember your Primary School days? Your teacher appoints a class prefect to look over the other pupils and report any misbehavior. Though you are in the same class, he/she is appointed a leader by the teacher. Each time you disregard the authority of the class prefect, the teacher deals with you or punish you. Why? Because the teacher feels you have disregarded his/her authority not just the prefect. This is exactly what happens between a man and a woman. Each time you disregard your man, you are disregarding the authority that makes him your leader.

I tell you, most issues you have with your man boils down to this very secret. When you make a man know you are not competing with his authority, he feels free to leave some decisions to you.

I have learnt by experience that anytime you get heady with a man; the relationship with your man become tough but when you use the respect side, it gets sweet. Disrespecting your man is denying yourself the love and affection you are to receive from him.
